2021 impact snapshot

Thanks to your support, we donated $39,784,146 towards research, clinical care and patient experiences, for the prevention or management of childhood illness or injury, with a focus on kids and families receiving treatment or care from services provided by Sydney Children's Hospitals Network.

* Includes $848,490 distributed to Curing Homesickness Alliance partners for funds raised in their state or territory to support initiatives that help get kids home from hospital sooner.

The Movement of Many

Thank you to the thousands of supporters who helped us generate $55,827,099 to be all in for kids' health.

Message from our Chair

Our support for Sydney's children's hospitals and paediatric services has never been more important. Together, we can make real change for children's health today and tomorrow.

Not many people or organisations can say they have the potential to positively impact thousands, if not millions, of the youngest and most vulnerable lives – today and well into the future. But with your support that's what we can achieve together through Sydney Children's Hospitals Foundation (SCHF).

We faced an unforeseen crisis in the COVID-19 pandemic, but the inspirational dedication of our community helped us through. Thanks to your generous outpouring of support in FY21, we have donated almost $39.8 million towards high-impact child health initiatives – with a focus on supporting children receiving care from the committed teams at Sydney Children's Hospitals Network (SCHN). These vital funds ensure the best care for sick kids today and better health for all children tomorrow.

We are of the most trusted kids' health charities and your support has helped fund groundbreaking research, essential clinical care, capital works and equipment, and positive patient experiences across one of Australia's largest children's hospitals and health services network. Together, we have funded 1,045 vital needs to improve child health.

It's certainly been a busy and successful time for SCHF, but if this year has taught us anything it's the critical importance of investing in the future of children's health.

You'll notice we've changed our look since last year's report. We recently launched a new brand positioning, to better reflect the aspirations of our team, our supporters and our impact on paediatric care. It's about showing who we are today, knowing what we can become in the future, and creating a path to lead us from one to the other. We now have a chance to take on the challenges ahead of us, and to go all in for kids' health.

I'd like to acknowledge the valuable contribution of my fellow directors, the CEO, the executive team and our staff. Their unwavering commitment to supporting our donors to positively change children's health is testament to what we can achieve together.

The coming year will no doubt bring many challenges as we navigate the impacts of COVID-19. We remain positive about the financial strength of SCHF but understand the increasing need to support Sydney's paediatric hospitals and services. We will continue to work with our dedicated supporters to improve the health of all children – no matter what.

Message from our CEO

With one foot at the front line and one in the future, we're here for sick kids and their families who need our all.

We each have the power to make a difference, and together we are forming a revolution in kids' health. Over the last year, you have played a pivotal role in our Movement of Many, fighting for the health and wellbeing of all children. We've come together to help all sick kids, no matter where, no matter what.

Backed by an empowered force of passionate donors, our vision is a world where every child has access to the best medical care. We have been delivering on this promise for the past 35 years, building on the 140 year legacy of community fundraising for children's hospitals.

Over the past 12 months, SCHF has been agile and resilient, innovative and creative, and you have been there every step of the way as we've continued to respond in this ever-changing world.

You stayed by our side through the challenges of COVID-19, allowing us to proudly deliver our best fundraising results to support children receiving services, treatment or other specialised care from The Children's Hospital at Westmead; Sydney Children's Hospital, Randwick; Kids Research; Bear Cottage; and the Newborn and Paediatric Emergency Transport Service (NETS).

Thanks to your support, the impact is being felt by children in hospital wards, treatment rooms, research labs, outreach programs and beyond. You've helped us fund new equipment, training and education, groundbreaking research and state-of-the-art facilities, ensuring kids receive the world-class healthcare they deserve.

We continue to be inspired by your ongoing generosity, particularly when you may be doing it tough too. Whether it's sending messages of support to frontline workers or kids in their care; coming together as a community, albeit online, for our virtual events; or volunteering or giving a gift that can change a life – I want to thank each one of you for uniting to ensure a healthier future for all children.

I also want to extend that thanks to the team at SCHF – the dedicated professionals who prove each day that they are all in for kids' health.

With your help in 2021, we have been able to go all in, changing the landscape of children's health – for all kids, always.

generous supporters

Strategy 1: Engagement

Backed by a force of 70,000 supporters who stand with us to deliver the best possible care for a sick child today and better health for all children tomorrow, we were able to raise $46.1 million in a very challenging year for everyone.

The scale and scope of SCHF reflects our genuine commitment to supporters, fundraisers and volunteers who choose us as their charity of choice to drive impactful change in children's health.

Every donation, gift in Will, fundraising event and volunteering moment delivers immediate impact and lasting change – with vital funds directed to the front line or the future of children's health care.

We truly believe there is no greater impact in kids' health for your donation. Together, we're going all in for kids' health.

Highlights from our Movement of Many

The sky's the limit for kids' health

Even with COVID-19 restricting travel, Sydney Airport raised an amazing $170,000 from its annual 'Bid for Good' Lost Property Auction to support music therapy positions at The Children's Hospital at Westmead and Sydney Children's Hospital, Randwick. But the airport's generous support didn't stop there. Sydney Airport also lit up the runway for Santa during our Light Up Xmas Appeal, opened a pop-up SCHF shop in the domestic airport, and donated an incredible space to host our signature Gold Dinner – on the runway!

Kids with cancer get school Back on Track

Educational support from the Back on Track program ensures kids with cancer stay connected to their school and friends, keep on track with their schoolwork and experience a smooth transition back to school. Generous support from the Profield Foundation ($363,405) and the Waratah Education Foundation (three-year funding of $202,500) will fund education coordinators to support 251 children currently undergoing cancer treatment so they don't fall behind in school.

Gifts in Wills create a lasting legacy

In FY21 we received more than 90 generous gifts from individuals passionate about leaving a legacy that transforms children's health. Many of these vital gifts went towards our highest funding priorities, which in FY21 included groundbreaking research and major building projects that will help children now and for generations to come. Additionally, the Anaesthetic Department at The Children's Hospital at Westmead received a special treatment chair for the Outpatients Department and six diathermy machines for the Operating Suite, thanks to a gift from the Estate of the Late Lillian Joan Larkin, and Bear Cottage funded several family respite weekends thanks to a generous gift from the Estate of the Late Eric Frances Roy Parkes.

Supporters on the move for sick kids

The Leaping Livers Lapping the Lagoon event went virtual for its seventh year, with a 'Do 9, nominate 9' challenge. The event raised $113,344 for The Children's Hospital at Westmead Liver Transplant Unit. NSW COVID-19 restrictions lifted in time for the 13th Bob 'Tug' Wilson's Walk for Kids with Cancer, which raised $252,511 for the Cancer Centre for Children at The Children's Hospital at Westmead. Individuals also set challenges to raise critical funds, including Abbas Soukie, who went from being unable to run 100 metres to completing 100 kilometres in just 12 hours to raise $18,241 for sick kids.

Not all heroes wear capes

Bear Cottage children and families are the inspiration behind Superhero Week, and it is humbling to know they have such tremendous support in the community. Thank you to everyone who helped raise vital funds for NSW's only children's hospice.

Building a brighter future for kids undergoing surgery

The directors of Mayrin Group generously funded an advanced digital operating theatre at Sydney Children's Hospital, Randwick. The new suite will enable greater precision for surgeons performing keyhole surgery, especially when operating on babies and complex cases. It also has the capability to record or video stream operations, to allow our expert surgeons to share their knowledge of new or challenging techniques with surgical teams anywhere in the world.

Review of strategic goals

Strategy 2: Reputation

As one of the largest and most trusted kids' health charities in Australia, we exist to help provide all children with access to the best possible health care, when and where they need it.

Reputation research helps us understand what drives our 70,000 donors to support our cause, so we can continue to deliver greater impact, now and into the future. As a trusted charity, this work reassures our community that every donated dollar does indeed make a difference.

For the third year, we engaged RepTrak – a leading provider of data-driven reputation, brand, and environmental, social and governance insights – to survey our reputation. Analysing the sentiment of key stakeholders delivers an overall reputation score based on questions about trust, respect, admiration and esteem. This survey helps us monitor the perception of our brand as we continue to inspire the community to join with us to be all in for kids' health.

We set our benchmark reputation score 89.4/100, with a goal of 92/100 by 2022. Pleasingly, we surpassed our expectations in FY21 achieving a score of 92.7 in the annual survey.

SCHF also consecutively increased levels of familiarity over the past three years, with a 12-point increase from 67% in FY19 to 79% in FY21. This reflects our engagement with donors about our expanded commitment across the Network, and our ability to foster stronger connections for between donors and the initiatives they help to fund.

Insights from the survey also revealed that our donors place the most importance on SCHF making a meaningful contribution to and impact on society delivering high-quality services and being ethically operated.

Most notably, despite the challenges of COVID-19, the research demonstrated optimism among our donors. Most of our supporters remain strongly committed both emotionally and financially, driven by their keen focus to elevate the health for all children in an ever-changing world. This is evident in our donors' ongoing generous support for our key fundraising appeals and activities.

Reputation drivers

Appeal highlights

Light Up Xmas Appeal

In December 2020, families across NSW tuned into Channel Nine for our first Network-wide Light Up Xmas Appeal broadcast. Over three magical hours, 10 brave families shared their inspiring stories, and the Appeal raised over $4.7 million for the hospitals and paediatric services that care for them.

Sydney Sick Kids Appeal

The inaugural Sydney Sick Kids Appeal was one of our biggest and most successful fundraising initiatives of the year, celebrating the positive difference that we can all make to the lives of sick and injured children who need our help. Despite the evolving COVID-19 situation in June 2021, our generous supporters rallied to raise an extraordinary $6.4 million in six weeks, helping to change the lives of sick kids today and future-proofing the health of all kids tomorrow.

Bandaged Bear Appeal

After 32 years, our annual Bandaged Bear Appeal gave us many reasons to celebrate. Thousands of supporters across NSW united once again to ensure sick kids continue to receive the care they need and deserve. Over five activity-filled weeks, we supported teddy bear picnics, train station activations and other community activities to raise over $1.7 million for children's health. This will help fund everything from wards and treatment rooms to cutting-edge research and innovation.

Strategy 3: Efficiency

We continued to focus on our operational excellence in FY21, through our commitment to the highest standards of efficiency and effectiveness. We are proud to report that despite the challenges of FY21, we achieved a cost of fundraising of only 20.67%.

Cultivating collaboration

As we maintained remote and hybrid working arrangements during 2020 and 2021 due to the ongoing impacts of COVID-19, SCHF continued to focus on enhancing collaboration with new systems, providing consistency and efficiency.

The SharePoint migration project saw SCHF move from a traditional document management system to one that is highly collaborative, empowering teamwork and fostering agile working environments. Data is securely stored and seamlessly accessible in the cloud. This has accelerated and transformed our business processes within this new hybrid workspace.

We will continue to develop this project in the new financial year. Adding an intranet that allows us to share common resources will further build cohesion and drive organisational efficiency.

Operational excellence

Following SCHF's expansion, we continued to focus on integrating and enhancing key systems. Over the past year, we've been developing an integrated finance system to deliver flexible reporting, so we can demonstrate our impact in an effective and meaningful manner.

The new finance system, which we will roll out across SCHF shortly, will incorporate the General Ledger, allowing reports to be viewed through a single, consistent lens. This will improve transparency and accessibility; improve our reporting to donors; and enable our primary beneficiary, SCHN, to more easily tell us about the impact of the funds we have donated to its work.

Governance and risk

SCHF takes security and privacy very seriously, particularly in our new hybrid working environment and the broader digital world. We have conducted privacy training courses for all staff members, equipping them with the resources they need to be compliant and respectful in data collection, and to mitigate the risk of a data-related breach.

Strategy 4: Culture

Our committed team of thinkers and doers, planners and creators, helping hands and guiding lights are all in to ensure all children can live their healthiest lives. That's why 23 bright minds joined us in FY21 and 27 team members have now been with us for more than five years.

A community of unstoppable changemakers

Our talent is drawn from different groups, backgrounds and perspectives, and what makes us different makes us work. We are proud to foster a collaborative culture of inclusion and we celebrate unique ideas, particularly through our colleague-led Culture Club, which leads our social, peer-support and wellbeing activities.

Our all-staff Foundation Forum provides the opportunity to share strategic insights, allows teams to present key activities, and invites external presenters to upskill our staff. The Forum also provides the opportunity to reward and recognise individuals who demonstrate our key values.

Making a difference today. Shaping tomorrow.

We remain committed to investing in the professional development of our employees, whatever their passions. They are empowered to undertake further education, and many are undertaking studies in law, nursing and business, demonstrating how our staff can make a difference today while shaping tomorrow.

Our Head of Leadership continues to work directly with our leaders across the business, providing coaching support and mentoring to further develop their experience and professional skills.

We're proud to see our employees recognised within the industry for their achievements. We were delighted that Kylie Elliott, our dedicated Volunteer and Supporter Engagement Lead, was awarded the prestigious NSW Excellence in Volunteer Management Award from the Centre for Volunteering.

All in for health

Health and wellbeing remain a core focus across SCHF. We know that by going all in to support our colleagues and foster a mentally healthy workplace, our staff can embrace our bold mission and fulfil their passion at work.

This year we've invested in Energx, a personalised program based on neuroscience, positive psychology and wellbeing to enhance energy, creativity, productivity and holistic health.

A mechanism for powerful change

Our annual Employee Engagement Survey enables us to track our progress in creating a positive culture across SCHF. We achieved an Engagement score of 72% and improved in the areas of Work and Life Blend, Action, and Learning and Development. These are positive trends as we strive towards creating powerful change. We aim to ensure our team remains inspired and equipped to continue connecting with our wonderful supporters, so they can raise vital funds to help all sick kids, no matter where, no matter what.

Volunteer and Supporter Engagement Lead Kylie Elliott is recognised with the state's top volunteering award for creating a best-practice volunteer program.

Who you helped

The funds we raise are focused on helping kids and families who are receiving care from the dedicated teams across the Sydney Children's Hospitals Network (SCHN). As one of Australia's largest children's hospitals and health services network, your support has helped 8,423 healthcare heroes across the Network care for hundreds of ill and injured children every day.

Ollie's story

Your support helps kids like Ollie, an energetic, outgoing 13-year-old who has had more than 28 operations, including his first surgery at just two days old.

Ollie has VACTERL association, a rare condition that can affect a child's heart, kidneys, limbs, digestive system and spine.

One of the many challenges Ollie has faced was being born with a club foot and missing several small ankle bones. At just four years of age, Ollie's parents made the very difficult decision to proceed with leg amputation and a prosthetic leg to improve his mobility. This gave Ollie a new lease on life, especially with his new prosthetic blade that allows Ollie to enjoy the sports he loves, such as soccer, cricket and running.

With such a complex condition, Ollie and his family receive ongoing and coordinated care and support from many specialist teams at Sydney Children's Hospital, Randwick.

Les was just 13 when his family was forced to pack their bags and head for Australia. After they settled in Sydney, Les enrolled at Randwick Boys High School in June 1961 where, despite not speaking a word of English, he excelled.

His academic success led to an offer to study medicine at the University of Sydney, a perfect fit for Les as it gave him the opportunity to make a tangible difference.

His career eventually took him to Sydney Children's Hospital, Randwick, where he became a cancer specialist and then Executive Director from 1995 to 2010. He was then appointed as the inaugural NSW Chief Paediatrician, a position he held until 2016.

Les was awarded a Doctorate of Science for research contributions related to childhood cancer and holds a Master of Health Administration. In 2019, he was also honoured with a Doctorate of the University from the University of New South Wales

Our Patron is passionate about children's health care and has dedicated much of the last half-century to that pursuit. He deeply appreciates the critical role of research and the enormous contribution our wonderful donors make by supporting SCHF. He believes the motto 'all in for kids' health' captures that partnership admirably. As a natural people person, Les brings a human-centric approach to his role as Patron of SCHF.

Curing Homesickness

Helping kids get home from hospital sooner

Our innovative Curing Homesickness initiative has gone from strength to strength since launching in 2019. We raised more than $2.6 million in the past financial year to help kids across Australia get home from hospital sooner.

Highlights for FY21

$2.601 million* raised nationally

988,358 bottles of Coles Mum's Sause Pasta Sauce and Pizza Sauce sold nationally

$781,218 raised for SCHF

We launched Curing Homesickness in July 2019, after hearing from hospital teams and families that all children in hospital suffer homesickness, and learning that 50% of children in hospital will suffer at levels that impact their recovery and wellbeing. By collaborating with key corporate partners and an alliance of children's hospitals and paediatric services across Australia, Curing Homesickness has gone from strength to strength in its second year helping get kids back home where they belong.

Curing Homesickness raised over $2.6 million in FY21, by focusing on a shared value model of philanthropy with corporate partners Coles and Assembly Label. This funding will support vital hospital funding priorities including research, positions and equipment.

*Of the $2.6 million Curing Homesickness raised in FY21, for financial reporting purposes, product and card sales are taken into account when funds are received. The income booked from the Curing Homesickness initiative in FY21 Financial Statements was $1.421 million. The balance of $1.2 million will be taken up in the FY22.

Better together

As our founding partner, Coles continued to lead the way in 2021 with the launch of a new pizza sauce to expand the Coles Mum's Sause range to four products sold at its supermarkets across Australia. Coles Mum's Sause Pizza Sauce was launched in April 2021 to create another everyday item that is as good for families as it is for kids in hospital with 50 cents from every bottle sold directed to the partner children's hospital foundation in the state or territory where it is sold. Coles Mum's Sause Pizza Sauce was supported with launches across Australia featuring hospital staff, families and patients including nine-year old Indy and her mum, Megan, (pictured) at the Sydney Children's Hospital, Randwick.

In addition, Coles teams across Australia provided valuable support by running two Curing Homesickness $2 card campaigns at more than 800 supermarkets in 12 months, raising $939,592 in July 2020 and $1,146,393 in June 2021.

Fashion for change

Assembly Label continued to help get kids home from hospital sooner by launching a new Curing Homesickness t-shirt in November 2020, just in time for Christmas. The national campaign featured Molly and her sister Maddie (pictured); Molly shared her story about being diagnosed with an aggressive bone cancer at the age of 12, and her life-saving treatment at The Children's Hospital at Westmead.

In 2021, Assembly Label raised $37,894 by selling more than 700 limited-edition Curing Homesickness t-shirts and running its second Choose What You Pay initiative. Selected styles were offered at 50% off the standard retail price and shoppers could pay more for the product. Assembly Label matched the difference and donated it to Curing Homesickness.

Curing Homesickness receives individual charity status

Proving its status as a viable fundraising initiative, in FY21 Curing Homesickness was established as a wholly owned subsidiary of Sydney Children's Hospitals Foundation. It was incorporated as Curing Homesickness Limited in November 2020, and registered as a charity with the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission in January 2021.

Support for SCHF

Curing Homesickness helped raise more than $780,000 for SCHF in FY21, supporting high-impact projects such as an innovative research program that aims to safely get kids out of hospital and back home sooner.

The HOMEFREE project – led by paediatric infectious diseases specialist and microbiologist Dr Brendan McMullan at Sydney Children's Hospital, Randwick – aims to reduce in-hospital care for children with infections requiring antibiotics. The project involves a dedicated program helping hospital teams safely switch children from intravenous (IV) antibiotics to tablet medication earlier, so kids can get home sooner.

Currently, over 50% of children who are admitted to hospital receive some form of antibiotics, and it's estimated about one-third of these children could be switched from IV antibiotics to tablets at an earlier stage. In a pilot study, Dr McMullan found that a dedicated 'switch' program reduced the time kids spent in hospital by almost 20%, with an average reduced length of stay in hospital of almost 2.5 days. Curing Homesickness funding will allow this crucial study to expand to five hospitals across NSW, allowing the project to evaluate its effectiveness in different hospital settings.

Thanks to our generous changemakers

As one of Australia's largest and most trusted child health charities funding at the front line and for the future, our support creates immediate impact and lasting change. This is only possible thanks to our thousands of generous supporters who are all in for kids' health.

$1 million milestone

Sydney Children’s Hospitals Foundation is honoured to have ongoing support from many generous donors who want to change the lives of sick kids and their families. In FY21, six of our incredible supporters achieved an impressive $1 million milestone with their philanthropic support.

Camp Quality

Camp Quality gives kids facing cancer the chance to be kids again. Since 1995, Camp Quality has provided funding for Oncology Child Life Therapists at Sydney Children’s Hospital, Randwick and The Children’s Hospital at Westmead. Oncology Child Life Therapists educate and support children undergoing cancer treatment, and use play activities to reduce anxiety, stress and the need for sedation. Camp Quality have also supported the Beads of Courage program at Sydney Children’s Hospital, Randwick. These unique beads track each procedure of a child’s cancer experience such as blood tests, central lines, radiation sessions and surgery. Each string of beads, often metres long, tells a courageous story and is a badge of honour for children who miss out on the everyday milestones of childhood. After hospital treatment, Camp Quality continues to support children 0-15 years of age facing cancer, and their families, at every step of their cancer journey.

Left: Camp Quality has funded Oncology Child Life Therapists at Randwick and Westmead since 1995. Right: Lenity Australia donated $1.65 million to the ZERO (photo taken prior to COVID -19).

Lenity Australia

Lenity Australia supports relief programs that improve the livelihood of people affected by serious health issues and social issues. As a health promotion charity, it achieves its objectives by providing research, health promotion projects, education and support people who are destitute or exploited, particularly, women and girls nationally and internationally. Lenity Australia first committed $1 million to ZERO in 2017. It reached this milestone in March 2021, going on to contribute a total of $1.65 million to ZERO. Board Director Geoff Henry’s family has personally been touched by cancer, and he is proud that Lenity Australia is not only a Founding Partner of the funding campaign for ZERO, and be part of the transformational care for all children with cancer across Australia.

Macquarie Group Foundation

Macquarie Group Foundation is the philanthropic arm of Macquarie Group, supporting community organisations globally. Its work is supported by the activities of Macquarie staff, including matched giving, granting and donating to staff-nominated organisations. Macquarie Group Foundation has generously supported SCHF funding initiatives for ZERO, Archie’s Legacy (supporting brain tumour research), Bear Cottage, NETS, and clinical care at the children’s hospitals at Randwick and Westmead.

The Shaw Foundation

The Shaw Foundation has been generously donating to Bear Cottage since 2005. With this ongoing support, Bear Cottage has been able to make a real difference to the lives of children with life-limiting conditions, and their families. The Shaw Foundation’s contributions have enabled professional palliative care, specialised therapies, bereavement support, and camps and programs held at Bear Cottage. The Shaw Foundation commitment to kids’ health helps ensure that the children and families who stay at Bear Cottage receive the clinical and emotional support they need.

The Tony McCullough Foundation

The Tony McCullough Foundation has supported Bear Cottage since its inception, and sponsored Assistant in Nursing positions since 2010. This past year also marked a special occasion, as the foundation surpassed $1 million in total giving, and Bear Cottage completed a project that The Tony McCullough Foundation initiated back in 2002. After 19 years, Bear Cottage officially opened its wheelchair-accessible pathway to the nearby beach. The Pathway to the Sea will be affectionately known as McCullough Way, acknowledging the efforts of The Tony McCullough Foundation in championing the project and contributing substantial funds to ensure this dream became a reality.

Perpetual Foundation – The JB Bedwell Endowment

The JB Bedwell Endowment is a deceased estate held in trust in perpetuity with Perpetual Trustee Company Limited. Since 2014, The JB Bedwell Endowment has donated to the areas of greatest need at The Children’s Hospital at Westmead. By supporting the highest and most urgent priorities in research, clinical care and patient experience, the endowment can have the greatest impact on children’s health now and in the future.

Above left: The Shaw Foundation has donated to Bear Cottage since 2005, helping support children with life-limiting conditions, and their families. Above right: The Tony McCullough Foundation is a long-time supporter of Bear Cottage funding projects such as the long-awaited pathway to the beach, and vital Assistant in Nursing positions.

Financial summary

In FY21, the Foundation generated total revenue of $55.8 million, which includes $46.1 million of funds from generous community support. We donated $39.8 million towards improving childrens' health, including $36.4 million for specialised services and research within the Sydney Children's Hospitals Network.

SCHF is a conduit for, enabler of and mechanism for powerful change, investing the funds we raise directly at the front line and towards the future of children's health care. From hospital wards and treatment rooms to virtual programs, outreach initiatives and research labs, we're all in for kids' health, to ensure the best care today and better child health tomorrow.

Following the global disruption due to the COVID-19 pandemic in FY20, we saw some positive movement towards normality in early FY21 only to be again hit with the Delta variant outbreak in June 2021. Despite the impact on fundraising activity due to ongoing lockdowns and restrictions in NSW, as well as a volatile economic environment, we are proud to report that in FY21 we generated $55.8 million in total revenue. We are also proud to have made donations of almost $39.8 million, including $36.4 million to SCHN for the benefit of sick children and their families.

In May 2021, we marked three years since our two large, successful fundraising entities came together as one team, and we are now in the final stages of integration. This has required a collaborative effort to rework our finance systems, databases, internal processes and models of working, to create a better experience for our supporters and continue contributing funds where they can deliver the greatest impact.

Fundraising

FY21 started slowly, with NSW in periods of lockdown or restrictions due to COVID-19. Although we were able to successfully continue some fundraising activities and events virtually, we were only able to raise a fraction of the revenue we would have raised in person. We were also unable to visit our donors or, invite them to thank-you events or have them visit the hospitals to see the impact of their support.

2021 began more positively, with COVID-19 restrictions easing and fundraising activities ramping up towards a busy calendar for the rest of FY21. In line with community confidence, there was a significant increase in fundraising revenue in April to June, compared to the previous year, with a number of events and a new appeal launched just before NSW's second lockdown in June 2021.

We continued to benefit from our diverse fundraising portfolio and some revenue streams performed particularly well. One example is our continued partnership with Coles, through Curing Homesickness: for each jar of Mum's Sause sold, 50 cents goes to SCHF and our national Curing Homesickness Alliance partners.

Grant contributions

During the 12-month period ending 30 June 2021, SCHF contributed $39.8 million towards improving child health, including $36.4 million in support of SCHN, which includes Sydney Children's Hospital, Randwick; The Children's Hospital at Westmead; Bear Cottage; NETS; and Kids Research. This compares to contributions of $26.2 million for the previous 12-month period. We continued to invest these vital funds in line with SCHF's 2017-2022 Strategic Direction, guided by priority needs in three core areas: research, clinical care and patient experience. We donated a further $2.6 million to support research projects with key partners such as the University of Sydney and University of New South Wales. The remaining $0.8 million was distributed to Curing Homesickness Alliance partners from funds raised from this initiative in their state or territory to support clinical research, positions or equipment to get kids home from hospital sooner.

As part of the $36.4 million donated to the Network, we funded 94 clinical, nursing, allied health, education or support positions at a cost of $7.5 million, along with 21 Fellowships at a cost of $2.6 million. These Fellows will go on to become the specialists of the future, training hundreds of new doctors and treating thousands of children in Australia and overseas.

We provided $6.2 million towards equipment, including $2.5 million for a state-of-the-art interventional radiology system; $2 million for infusion and syringe pumps to help administer medication and fluids; and $0.2 million for a new smart theatre equipped with the most advanced surgical equipment.

We also contributed $8.3 million to 77 research positions, including 12 clinical research positions.

And we donated $5.2 million for the first stage of a major redevelopment at The Children's Hospital at Westmead.

The remaining funds contributed to the Network went to other areas of research, clinical care and patient experience, including $2 million for beside patient entertainment.

The $2.6 million contributed for key partnerships supported major research projects, including $1.5 million for ZERO, which is working to find novel treatments for children with aggressive forms of cancer.

Surplus and retained equity

Retained surpluses are funds held in readiness for granting to the beneficiary. This may be due to multi-year funding, equipment orders pending or the recruitment of key staff. The overall surplus retained for FY21 after grant contributions of $39.8 million was $0.6 million. We invest retained funds until the Network requests a transfer in accordance with its funding request process.

Income

The Foundation's gross income for the 12 months to 30 June 2021 was $55.8 million, compared to $54.7 million for the 12 months prior. Investment income was up by $7.0 million, a significant improvement on the FY20 results. This offsets a shortfall in bequest income of $4.9 million, and in donations, fundraising and capital appeals of $1.4 million. Fortunately, Gold Dinner in June 2021 was extremely successful after being postponed in 2020. Our two annual appeals – at Christmas and tax time – occurred outside of COVID-19 restriction periods and raised $11 million thanks to generous support from the community.

Investment update

Investment income delivered higher than expected returns when measured against established internal benchmarks and the value of the investment portfolio. The total value of our investment portfolio was $57.4 million as at 30 June 2021. Ongoing portfolio management was in line with policy, and regular reporting showed results exceeding market benchmarks for FY21.

Expenditure

Total expenditure for the reporting period was $15.4 million. The ratio of fundraising expense to fundraising income was 20.67%, an increase on FY20 largely attributable to a decrease in anticipated revenue compounded by the continuation of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Balance sheet

Overall, SCHF is in a strong and sustainable financial position with total net assets of $79.4 million. This includes the restricted and unrestricted reserves of $50.2 million and $28.4 million respectively, and an asset revaluation reserve of $0.8 million.

We have a policy of holding unrestricted reserves to allow SCHF to fund major multi-year capital programs, sustain program grant levels regardless of market conditions, invest in new systems and respond to major strategic opportunities as they arise. All proposed grants were submitted and approved through the relevant sub-committees and Board, according to policy. Restricted reserves are tagged for use as directed by donors and we aim to acquit them for the specified purposes within a reasonable timeframe.

Investment policy

Through prudent management, SCHF has accumulated funds that are invested strategically to protect our long-term security and provide continuity in delivering positive outcomes for children's health.

The Board has ultimate fiduciary responsibility for managing these funds and has delegated authority to the Audit and Risk Committee (ARC) to ensure the funds are invested in line with SCHF's purpose. The ARC has appointed JBWere to manage the funds in accordance with an Investment Policy Statement.

Socially responsible investment

SCHF has a responsibility to ensure that our investment practices align with the expectations of our beneficiaries, our stakeholders and the broader community. To align the investment mandate with these material issues, the Board has determined that SCHF will not make any direct investments in securities (companies) that derive sales revenues from:

- Tobacco production and distribution
- The use of child labour (as defined under relevant United Nations conventions).

If the Board concludes that an organisation is not behaving in a socially responsible manner, it reserves the right to instruct JBWere to specifically exclude this organisation and all associated holdings from SCHF's investment portfolio.

In making these decisions, the Board and the ARC will consider the broader environmental, social and governance record of the company in question. They accept that excluding industries and specific stocks has the potential to limit the risk-adjusted return generated.
